Barrett, The Honors College requirements

The Upper Division honors curriculum is designed for students who have completed approximately half of their undergraduate degree program and are looking to enroll in Barrett during the start of what is traditionally considered their junior year. The Upper Division option works particularly well for community college students coming to ASU with an earned associate degree.

To apply for Barrett Upper Division admission, the following criteria must be met:

Already completed:

- A minimum of 54 credit hours recognized by Arizona State University.
- At least 30 of the 54 credits must have been earned after high school or homeschool graduation.
- Courses in progress at the time of Barrett application review will be counted toward the 54-credit minimum with the expectation that they will be successfully completed.

Remaining at ASU:

At least two academic years — four fall/spring academic semesters, not including summer sessions — and approximately 60 credit hours at the time of honors enrollment (not at the time of application submission).

The Barrett admission process:
