Choose from four ASU degree programs:

Criminology and criminal justice, BS
Understand the causes and consequences of crimes and the roles of criminal justice agencies. Learn the history, legal issues and current practices of crime control.

For more information about this program, contact Jim Eustace at jeeustac@asu.edu.

Organizational leadership, BA
Advance your career and become a leader in your organization. Develop the skills and knowledge to manage resources, communicate effectively, use emerging technologies and lead projects.

For more information, contact Gerry West at Gerald.L.West@asu.edu.

Secondary education, BAE
Prepare to be an educator for youth enrolled in grades 6—12. You’ll develop a strong theoretical background and gain the requisite teaching knowledge and abilities to successfully teach middle or high school students. Student cohorts are at the AWC Yuma campus and Parker Learning Center.

Special education and elementary education, BAE
Prepare yourself for a teaching career in special and elementary education with this certification program. Clinically embedded during your junior and senior years, you’ll combine coursework with direct classroom experience by working with special needs and elementary students. Program graduates are highly sought after to teach special education in grades K–12 and elementary education in grades K–8.

*Up to 15 additional hours of lower-division general studies coursework can be completed prior to transferring to ASU. Transfer up to 75 community college credits toward this degree, with 45 credits to be completed at ASU. If lower-division general studies requirements are not complete prior to transferring, the courses can be taken at Arizona Western College or ASU. All degree requirements must be met prior to graduation from ASU.

General university admission is guaranteed upon one of the following:
1. Completion of an associate degree from a regionally accredited higher education institution with a minimum 2.00 cumulative GPA (Arizona residents) or 2.50 cumulative GPA (nonresidents).
2. Completion of 24 or more transferable semester credits post-high school with a minimum cumulative transfer GPA of 2.50 (4.00 = "A") and verification of high school graduation or the equivalent.

Note: Some ASU colleges and schools have additional or higher requirements for admission into their majors. Students will also need to submit an ASU admission application, including an application fee and other required documents, such as official college/university transcripts.

MyPath2ASU™ pathway programs include a minimum of 24 credit hours. Students with fewer than 24 transfer credit hours will need to meet the appropriate admission requirements.
